

The Dante Alighieri Society of BC
invites you to the Q&A event

To Publish or Self-Publish
in the Digital Age?

Join us for a lively Q&A event with writer-cum-publisher Michael Mirolla and self-publisher Michele Amitrani on the role of creative writing and (self-)publishing in the digital age.

The event will take place at 7:00 pm, after the Society's Annual General Meeting, which will start at 6:30 pm.

After the Q&A, we shall share some light refreshments and some conversation to end our evening.

Michael Mirolla is the author of over a dozen works of fiction, non-fiction, poetry and plays, and a three-time winner of the F.G. Bressani Literary Prize. His novel Berlin was a finalist for the Indie and National Book Awards. Born in Italy and raised in Montreal, Michael is also the publisher and editor in chief of Guernica Editions (Toronto).

Michele Amitrani writes and self-publishes Sci-Fi in Italian and has recently published his first Fantasy in English, Lord of Time. He is the founder of a leading book marketing and self-publishing platform in Italy - www.CrediNellaTuaStoria.com, and the host of Credi Crea, a weekly podcast in Italian that interviews successful authors.
